

Career Connection – Wellness Coach

A wellness coach helps others set and achieve health & wellness goals. They empower their clients to become experts of their own health. This might include physical, mental or spiritual health.

Wellness coaches may work one on one or with groups of people. They may focus on exercise, nutrition, mental health or some combination of wellness skills.